STC on Personality Development & Personal Grooming – 21 Dec, 2022 – 01 Feb, 2023

Suggestions for Improvement:

1. Hone your Interaction Skills.
2. Staying well-informed is an important aspect of grooming your personality.
3. Keep yourself up-to-date on important events in the world by reading newspapers and magazines. If you're particularly interested in a field like history or technology, read books and watch documentaries on the subject.
4. Become self-aware. Focus on your inner.
5. Make a list of personality traits you want to develop or strengthen.
6. Jot down some habits you want to minimize.

Syllabus for STC on Building Teams That Work

- Lesson 1: Types of Teams

Delve deep into the various categories of teams present in modern workplaces, ranging from cross-functional teams to autonomous workgroups. For instance, while a marketing team might prioritize creativity, a finance team would be driven by analytical skills.

- Lesson 2: Hierarchy of Needs

Explore Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs in the context of team members. Understand how satisfying basic to self-fulfillment needs can boost team productivity and morale.

- Lesson 3: Benefits of Teamwork

Discover the tangible and intangible benefits of effective teamwork. Did you know companies that promote collaborative working are five times as likely to be high-performing?

- Lesson 4: Developing Your Team Resources

Equip yourself with strategies to gauge your team's current resources, identify gaps, and mobilize resources effectively. From skill sets to team budgets, ensure you're leveraging everything at your disposal.

- Lesson 5: Designing Your Team

Understand the science and art behind selecting team members, setting team norms, and designing roles that cater to individual strengths.

- Lesson 6: The Psychology of Team Building

Dive into the human mind and understand the psychological principles that drive team dynamics. From groupthink to cognitive diversity, grasp what makes or breaks a team.

- Lesson 7: Participation Methods and Repercussions

Analyze the ways in which team members can participate and collaborate. Also, understand the consequences of participation, both positive and negative.

- Lesson 8 & 9: Team Building Activities

Go beyond traditional icebreakers. Engage in activities backed by science and real-world testing to strengthen bonds, encourage communication, and resolve conflicts.

- Lesson 10: Virtual Teams and Leadership Development

With the rise of remote working, grasp the unique challenges posed by virtual teams. Understand how to foster trust, ensure communication, and develop leaders in a virtual environment.

Course Outcome:

- Define types of teams.
- Define hierarchy of needs.
- Define benefits of teamwork.
- Summarize methods for designing your team.
- Recognize the psychology of team building.
- Demonstrate team building activities.
- Demonstrate mastery of lesson content at levels of 70% or higher.

Syllabus for STC on Resume Writing & Interview Skills

Module 1: Your Resume and Cover Letter: Purpose and Planning

This module teaches you to consider your resume from the perspective of potential employers — displaying your skills, knowledge and experience in a polished, targeted way.

- Review the categories of information to include on your resume and get some design tips.
- Use keywords and phrases to tailor the content of your resume to demonstrate a close fit to the specific job you're applying for.
- Understand the different types of resumes and situations to use them.

Module 2: Creating and Formatting Your Resume and Letter

All resumes contain essentially the same information — make yours stand out. This module takes a closer look at resume components and how to build yours to maximize your success.

- Write a clear, complete, easy-to-read and appealing resume and cover letter.
- Discover what to include — and what not to include — in your resume information.
- Incorporate formatting tips that de-clutter your materials and make them easier to read and scan.

Module 3: Starting the Job Search
